

Sudden Impact Racing and AMSOIL

Thrilling fans, tearing up the competition, and winning numerous trophies and awards—that's what the AMSOIL Shock Therapy monster truck, driven by Jon Zimmer, has been doing since making its electrifying debut in 2008.

The past several months have been nothing short of spectacular as Zimmer piloted AMSOIL Shock Therapy to impressive Monster Jam wins in Providence, Rhode Island and Anaheim, California and finished second in the final point standings at Checkered Flag Productions Monster Truck Grand Nationals in Pocatello, Idaho. Further to the north, Shock Therapy zapped the competition as Jon Zimmer was named the 2008 Edge-Motorsports Monster Madness World Champion. The successful year was topped off with Zimmer winning the Monster Jam Rising Star Award in Las Vegas, Nevada.

“We are so excited to be part of the AMSOIL team,” stated Zimmer. “We are running Shock Therapy hard every weekend, and the entire line of AMSOIL products is performing great. I am honored to represent AMSOIL and Sudden Impact Racing, and I will be running Shock Therapy full throttle all summer long, doing my best to win some more hardware and give our fans a great show!”

“We are using AMSOIL products in all our trucks, and we couldn't be happier with the results,” states the enthusiastic Sudden Impact Racing owner Brandon Lagarde. “2008 Monster Jam Rookie of the Year, Kristy Edge, has been wowing the fans in Excaliber, and Sean Duhon has been tearing it up in the Cult Energy Activator monster truck. AMSOIL products give our team the edge we need to be out there competing hard every weekend!” says Lagarde.

Be sure to check www.suddenimpact.com for updates on the AMSOIL Shock Therapy monster truck and the rest of the Sudden Impact Racing team as the summer season progresses. Also, make sure you check out www.amsoil.com to learn more about AMSOIL. Just think of what the products that power Sudden Impact Racing team's monster trucks can do for your vehicle! Check it out today.

By: Mary Mittlestat